THE TORCH

Class of 1964

EAST BRIDGEWATER HIGH SCHOOL
EAST BRIDGEWATER,
MASSACHUSETTS

Foreword

How can one tell the story of four years, four years at E.B.H.S.? How can one tell the story of a school, a cold formal building made of concrete and steel? Neither a building nor a year is a story. Rather, the students are the story—the knowledge of the intellectual, the enthusiasm of the cheerleader, the determination of the athlete, the willingness to work, but most important, the spirit behind these things—spirit for studies, athletics, and school government. E.B.H.S. spirit is strong. No losing season, no strict rules, no, nothing can take away our innate spirit. The class of '64 reflects this spirit; the TORCH reflects them—so let our theme bé "The Spirit of E.B. H.S."

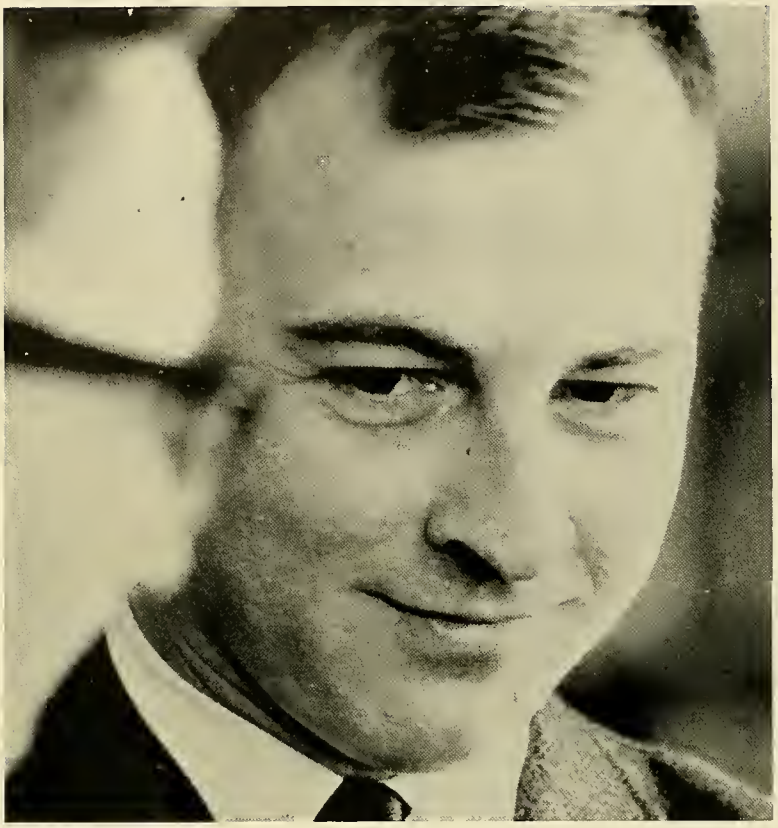
We Dedicate Our Yearbook to



Mr. Albert Kjellerstedt

"If I were sitting here and the whole outside world were indifferent to what I was doing, I would still want to be doing just what I am."

Mr. Kjellerstedt, you have been a true friend to us. But more than a friend, you have helped us in particular, on the yearbook and many others through the Argus, freshman basketball, and your classes. You have overlooked our forgetfulness, our carelessness, and our inconsideration. You have made us look within ourselves and laugh; you have pushed us farther along the road to maturity. Your calm resolution and your perspective of life have taken away our anger and substituted understanding. How can we say thank you to a man who has done all this? We could have offered you a gift, presented you with money, but that is too meaningless for you. Instead, we chose to work many long hours to produce this yearbook for you. The 1964 Torch is only the tangible embodying the intangible—our admiration. Therefore, we dedicate our yearbook, which is so all-important in our Senior year, to you, "our Mr. K."

Hmm, what shall we do today?

I think we'll read.

I like to read.

a Man Who Is Himself Dedicated

What do you think of that?

Hmmmm!

Chuckle, Chuckle.

They brought to us . . .

Principal's Message

And this our life exempt from public haunt finds tongues in tree, books in the running brook
Sermons in stones and good in everything.

William Shakespeare,
As You Like It

The enjoyment of reading, the identification with the printed page emotionally as well as intellectually which characterizes the effective reader, is an important characteristic of the educated adult.

To those who have learned the secret which transforms the printed page from abstract symbols into meanings which carry personal significance, reading of books becomes and remains a source of personal satisfaction for which there is no substitute.

With the library a vital part of your life and the librarian as your companion, books become your magic carpet. Reading then, becomes your passport into other countries. You meet other people, visit in their homes, travel their roads, share their experiences, and your ideas are stimulated. What fun; what a deeply satisfying experience.

Sincerely,
Raymond Hamilton
Principal

Superintendent's Message

Class of 1964:

I would like to impress upon you the following considerations—

Each of you really counts. The world will be a little better—or a little worse—because you have been in it. It is my sincere hope that you will show initiative in making even the slightest effort to change it for the better.

There's nobody quite like you. You have been assigned a personal mission in life to fulfill that has been given to no one else. And it is up to you to carry through to the best of your ability.

You are important. No one will ever be in exactly the same circumstances or be offered the same opportunities as you. Each has an eternal value for what he is and does.

Do what you can. Recall the old saying "I am only one, but I am one. I cannot do everything, but I can do something. What I can do, I ought to do. And what I ought to do I will do."

Sincerely,
Stanley B. Goldman
Superintendent of Schools

Vice-Principal; Guidance Director

MR. JOSEPH F. MOREY, Vice-Principal

Everywhere one turns, they will, no doubt, find Mr. Morey adding his humor and wit to the normal procedures of everyday school activities. Besides being a coach and teacher, Mr. Morey has numerous jobs to fulfill in assisting our principal.

There always seems to be a steady stream of students to the guidance office. Why? The answer lies in the personality of our new guidance director, Miss Mary C. Anderson. In addition to having ample time to listen to each student's problems, aiding seniors in college plans, and planning the curriculum, she finds time to be advisor to the Student Council and Junior Varsity and Varsity cheerleaders. Miss Anderson has gained the admiration, friendship and respect of all students in the short while she has been here.

MISS MARY C. ANDERSON, Guidance Director

MISS BARBARA LIGHTFOOT, R.N.

Personnel

There is an old cliche that goes, "Behind every good man there is a woman." This seems very apropos here. Behind Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Goldman there are two women, their secretaries. Mrs. Alberta Poole is indispensable to the Principal's office. It is she whom both the students and faculty depend on. Mrs. Blanche Spear, Mr. Goldman's secretary, manages the business of all three schools.

Miss Barbara Lightfoot, the nurse, comes into much contact with the students, both when they are ill and when they like to be ill. She has initiated a new club into our school, the Future Nurses of America, and members are given the opportunity to work with her as clinic assistants.

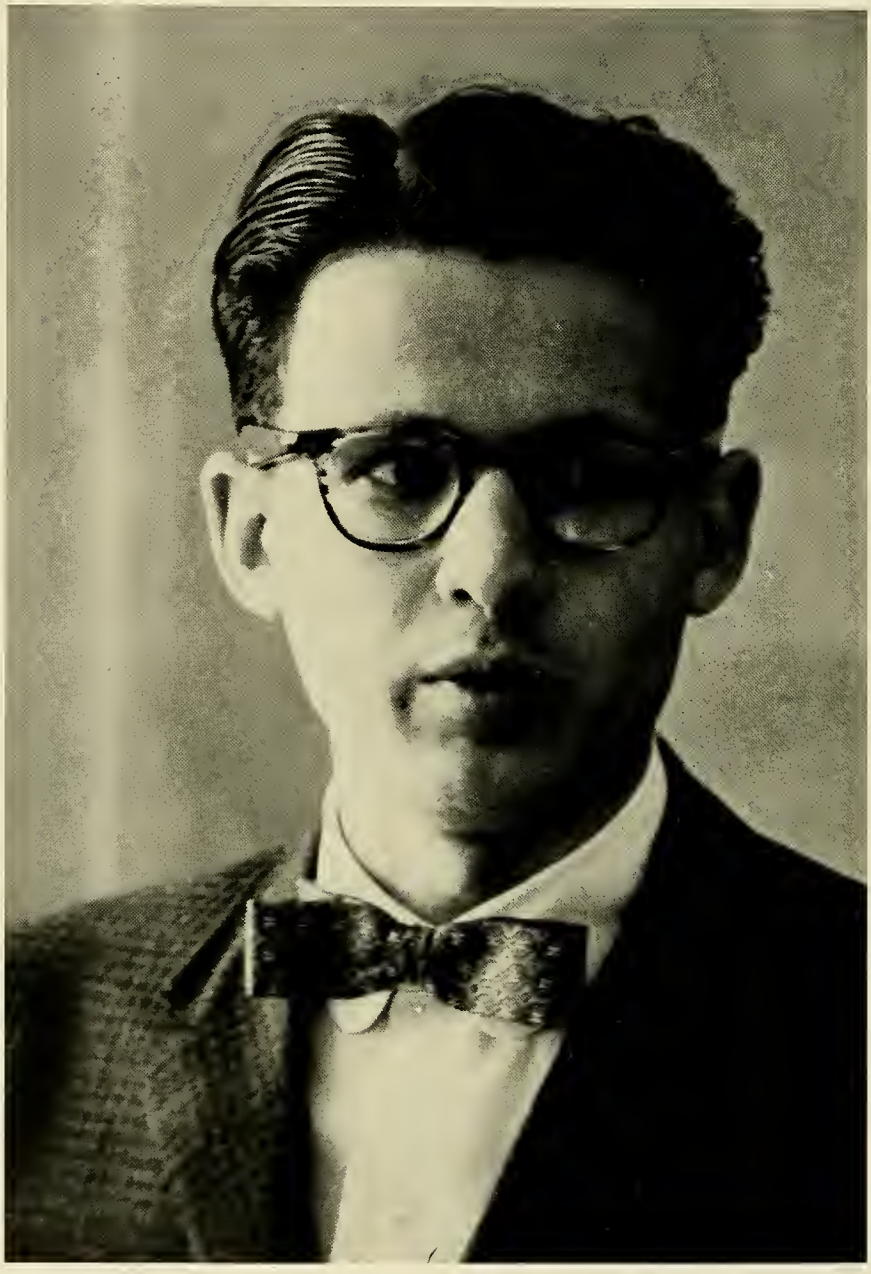
Class Advisor

Mr. Donald R. Ketcham



The Class of 1964 entered East Bridgewater High School with but vague knowledge of how a high school operates. A guiding force was a necessity. The school, therefore, appointed Mr. Donald Ketcham to advise us in our endeavors. This he has done. From the framing of a constitution to the senior week activities, he has always been willing to extend a helping hand. To you, Mr. Ketcham, the Class of 1964 says "Thank you!"

They lead us in our many endeavors.

The greatest

On Friday, the 13th of December, the cast of "January Thaw" summoned its last bit of courage, armed itself with words of confidence from friends and relatives, and faced the audience.

Frightened we were, but somehow managed to remember "all those lines," and even to come in on the right cues.

After the performance, a sigh of relief escaped the lips of every member of the cast. We had all worked very hard, but now felt rewarded for our efforts. The play is over, and we have only fond memories of the days spent in preparation for "the big night." The fun at rehearsals, the helping-hand given us by the Senior class, and even that feeling of queasiness we all experienced toward the end; these memories will remain with us for a long, long time. Much of the credit for our successful performance goes to our excellent director, Mrs. Malloy.

CO-EDITORS: Douglas Marchant, Deborah Nutter. BUSINESS MANAGER: Ashton Bullard.

It takes many people to produce a yearbook. Literary, layout, art, typing, and business staffs must all mesh into a vital living and co-ordinated organism. The people on this page are essential parts of that body which have created the 1964 Torch.

Since the first edition of the Torch each succeeding staff has earnestly endeavored to improve and expand upon the ideas and methods of the past. This year a summer supplement is offered which will include many of the spring activities which formerly could not be included in the main edition of the yearbook. Our more modernistic approach to layout and photography is designed to better portray the life of East Bridgewater High School. We have tried to expand the yearbook to encompass all the life of EBHS. We have shown the joy, the heartache, and the games won and lost. The 1964 Torch is the story of you and your school—a pictorial essay of EBHS in 1964.

The voice of you, the students, speaks out through the Student Council. It is to this group that one may turn to offer complaints, suggestions, and appraisals for the Council to discuss and resolve. Another way in which they serve the school and community is by offering a scholarship to a deserving senior each year. The Council is composed of representatives from each home room to give unbiased viewpoints on student life. Each spring and fall a convention is held at which the regional groups elect officers to the Southeastern Branch of the Associative Bodies of the Student Council. This year our Student Council is fortunate in having the district treasurer, Deborah Nutter, among their members.

ADVISOR: Miss Mary Sullivan

The purpose of the Junior Classical League is "to hand on the torch of Classical Civilization." The creed of this organization further states that an acquaintance with the Civilization of Greece and Rome will help us understand and appraise the world of today in not only government and laws but also in literature and art.

Cōnsilium Societatis Classical Juniōrum scientiam hūmānitis classical. Haec societās crēdit scientiam cultūs Graciae Rōmaeque faciet ut nōs mores intellegāmus atque aestimemus orbem nostrī temporis, nōn sōlum imperiō, lēgibusque, sed etiam litteris, linquā, cultū.

French Choral and Art Group

ADVISORS: Miss Mary Sullivan, Mr. Donald Ketcham

Hello! The purposes of the East Bridgewater French Choral and Art Group are to acquaint students with the culture of France and to enrich each member in the French language. During the year various meetings are planned at which the members view informative movies, sing French songs and hear interesting speakers.

Bonjour! Le French Choral and Art Group a deux buts principaux. Il essail de donner a ses membres une connaissance de la civilisation francais de chaque membre.

Au cours de l'annee scolaire il y a des reunions variees ou le groupe presente des films instructiss, des conferenciers interessants, et des programmes de chant.

"Music

"New" seems to be the key word with the band this year — new uniforms, new director, new music, new dance band, and new enthusiasm. Mr. John Schuller has instituted these, with the much appreciated help of the Band Parent's Club. This club undertook the purchasing of uniforms and raised the necessary money. Mr. Schuller has increased the importance of the band, bringing about much new interest.

The first Future Nurses Club of East Bridgewater High School, organized this year, has a total of 23 members. The F.N.C. is open to anyone in grades nine through twelve who express an interest in a medical field. The purpose of the F.N.C. is to familiarize the student with the career she has chosen, and make known to her the opportunities available in a field of health. This is accomplished by films, guest speakers, panel discussions, field trips, and carefully planned programs. It is hoped that these students will benefit from this program.

Library Assistants

Each year library assistants, carefully selected by Mrs. Anne Hynes, our librarian, learn the basic techniques of library skills. Shelving, processing, mending, and display work are only a few of the projects involved in library work. Many will agree that working with Mrs. Hynes in the library is a very rewarding experience. All school activities seem to revolve around the friendly atmosphere of the library and Mrs. Hynes. Sympathetic understanding, advice, and friendship are readily offered to all students here.

Clinic Assistants

Under the supervision of Miss Barbara Lightfoot, school nurse, the clinic is operated with speed and efficiency by clinic assistants. These girls are always prepared for any major or minor illness that may occur within the school. These services have proved to be beneficial to the school as well as to the assistants themselves.

Will one of you assistants come help me, I'm in pain.

CAFETERIA ASSISTANTS

The cafeteria workers at E.B.H.S. who willingly surrender their fifth periods every day. During the lunch hour rush, they perform such duties as scraping plates, selling ice cream, collecting money, making change, and serving, to ease the work on the employees, and provide a much more efficient system.

COACH TROY

The coaches were confronted with many obstacles this year — a small turnout, the usual lack of depth at a small high school, and strong opponents. However, they labored to improve our team, as did Captain Bruce Houde. Practices were long, the days were hot; we played Hanover in the rain. But we continued to play hard. We did not win, but neither did we give up.

Although the season was disappointing, the team played because they enjoyed football. But more important, because they wanted to support our school. E.B.H.S. did not lose enthusiasm for the sport, and attendance was high. The Blue and Gold were represented by sportsmanship and spirit, rather than victories, in the 1963-64 season.

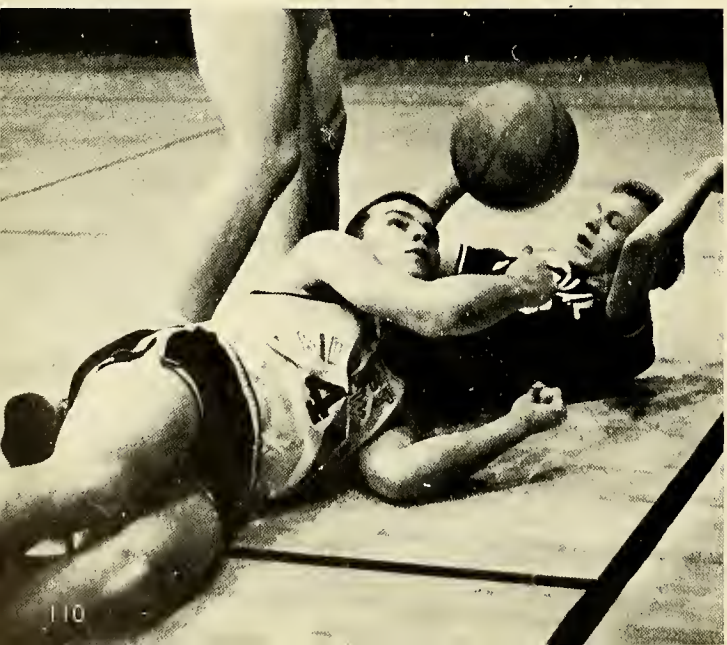
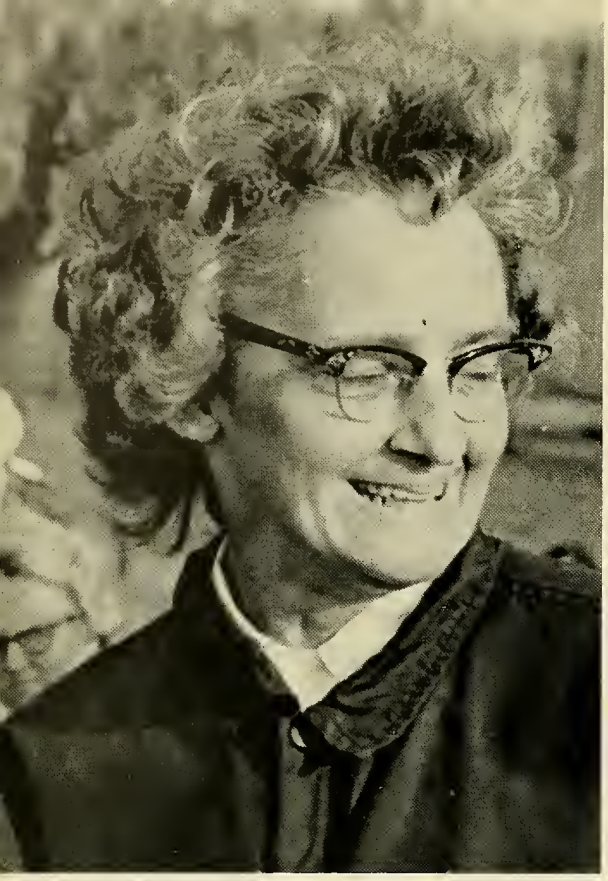
Coach
Mr. Joseph
Morey



Despite a disheartening season, Easties' school spirit, crowd enthusiasm, and game attendance seemed to increase. This in itself is a worthwhile accomplishment for a rebuilding year. The team being composed mostly of juniors, faced a rugged season with inexperienced players. Lack of height as well as lack of real scoring threat, however, proved to be a handicap when the Easties faced the taller, more experienced opponents. Easties made up for it woth the good spirit and fine sporstmanship characteristic of East Bridgewater High School.



COACH: MRS. VIRGINIA LOVERING

Field Hockey

The Easties' spirit is increasing. For the first time a rally was held in behalf of the field hockey team which spurred them on to three victories. A junior varsity cheerleading squad was organized to appear at all their games. This not only intensified the spirit, but the attendance and interest has increased. The future of field hockey at East Bridgewater High School looks bright.

Mrs. Lovering commented, "This is the best season that we have had, and we are looking forward to a much better season next year, as many of our experienced players will be returning."

Throughout two very discouraging seasons, there have been eight girls who have held the Easties' spirit high. It is difficult to remain enthusiastic when a defeat is obvious, yet our cheerleaders' optimism and vivacity were never lacking. This year the girls worked diligently on more exciting and more animated cheers and on money-making projects for their new and attractive uniforms. The squad plays an important part in the high school program-they not only encourage school support, but help to boost the morale of our teams.

With ivy clad walls resounding loud echoes of glory's name;

A shrine to thy dear children, a road to triumphant fame,

A link of eternal friendship, the light of a kindred flame,

Oh, sing the name of E. B. High! Be true to its blue and gold!

Its praise ring out, its cheers prolong, its faith forever uphold!
